Receipt is acknowledged of the information disclosure statements filed 09/18/2006, 09/22/2006 and 12/08/2010.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-6 13-24 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,737,447 (US'447). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because US'447 claims a polymeric coating on a medical device which reacts reversibly with nitric oxide, a nitric oxide prodrug; and a second fiber component, where in the second fiber functions to sequester said prodrug. While the structure of the US'447 patent differs in that bisepoxide crosslinking occurs, this crosslinking functions to slow the progress of activators into the coating. And as a result, those of ordinary skill would have expected a slowing or delay in the activation of the nitric acid precursor just as in the instant case. While a different mechanism is used to slow and delay its progress, it is noted that the same polyethyleneimine, diazeniumdiolate and activators are used since the device is presented in a biological environment which is aqueous. As such, the instant invention would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention given the claims of US'447.

Conclusion

No claims are allowed. However, it should be noted that if applicant presents claims which clearly overcome the prior art through structural means such as excluding crosslinking as the second fiber and setting out that the delay and slowing of activation is by sequestering of the nitric oxide prodrug, the claims would be in condition for allowance.
